

The Bridge: Dialogues across Cultures

Many would agree that today we live in a turbulent world where dialogue across the globe is essential, where cross-communication is an ever increasing and fundamental need on our planet now more than ever before. By adopting a Gestalt multi-cultural focus, a group of 23 eminent Gestaltists have investigated some of the human troubles that are of concern to many of us. They have stepped forward to write about their own experiences working in foreign lands and their attempts to help heal the ills that exist between societies and to offer readers ways of doing the same.
