The contributors work is presented from their own authentic knowing, whether through personal narrative or through conceptualization informed by such knowing. They explore what knowledge can consist of as it stretches beyond conventional objective observation and analysis. The contributors further thinking in the areas of philosophy, psychology, transpersonal and humanistic studies, and of science itself, in presenting useful expansions and extensions of ways in which humans can acquire, work with, and demonstrate fuller forms of knowledge and understanding of themselves, others, and the world at large. -- William G.
