

Derwent: Or Recollections of Young Life in the Country (Classic Reprint)

Childhood and youth are to age a storehouse of memories. All the incidents and feelings of our young life our pastimes, our haps and mishaps, our reveries, our penchants, our schools and schoolmates, our attachments and dislikes, the characters we note and study, the manners and customs of the time all these and many more things, impress themselves so deeply on the memory, that they never perish from it. I f, during the busy period of middle life, they are lost sight of for the time, yet in the evening of our days, they reappear with great distinctness, and are often adverted to, if not habitually dwelt on. It would not be of much interest to the reader to know how many years have passed over the writer of ,these(Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and dont occur in the book.)About the Publisher Forgotten Books is a publisher of historical writings, such as: Philosophy, Classics, Science, Religion, History, Folklore and Mythology.Forgotten Books Classic Reprint Series utilizes the latest technology to regenerate facsimiles of historically important writings.
