A ct IS cene: The scene is laid at A lmuin in I reland, Time, evening. Inside a richly decorated tent; a fire in brazier centre, a high candlestick at each side; a table with round loaves and wine. An opening at each side of tent, Finn is leading in Crania; she is wearing a golden dress and jewels. Music and joyous shouts are heard outside. Finn: My five hundred welcomes to you, Grania, coming into A lmuin. Crania: I thank you, Finn. Finn: Who would be welcome if it was not the King of I relands daughter, that will be my wife to-morrow? Crania: Your people that were outside and on the road lighted all the district with fires as I came. Finn: We would have been better prepared if your coming was not so sudden at the last. You did not come too soon, that is a thing that could not happen.(Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and dont occur in the book.)About the Publisher Forgotten Books is a publisher of historical writings, such as: Philosophy, Classics, Science, Religion, History, Folklore and Mythology.Forgotten Books Classic Reprint Series utilizes the latest technology to regenerate facsimiles of historically important writings.
