

Lost Endeavor (Classic Reprint)

Dr. Carter, who kept an Academy for the Sons of Gentlemen, in a great old haunted house which stood at that time (1690) near the coach road to Shooter s Hill, on the southern horder of Black Heath. Dr. Carter was one of the old school, birch and bottle men I think they called them, because they flogged without mercj, and drank port wine without stint; but he knew a great deal of Greek, they say, and he was always very good to me, so his faults may rest. His house, at one time, long before he came there, was one of the old, bad coaching inns. The cellar was said to be full of secret rooms, where the conspirators used to meet in the time of the Powder Plot. And we boys always heard that from somewhere in the cellar one could get into those secret passages, cut under the ground, which run all across Greenwich, and away south to Chislehurst, like the workings of great moles.(Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and dont occur in the book.)About the Publisher Forgotten Books is a publisher of historical writings, such as: Philosophy, Classics, Science, Religion, History, Folklore and Mythology.Forgotten Books Classic Reprint Series utilizes the latest technology to regenerate facsimiles of historically important writings.
